Hon. L. E. Houston, of Monroe county, is mentioned for U. S. Senate.

Congress is again discussing the "Indian troubles. The Utes "must go."

Jackson is building a new opera house. It is to seat 900 people.

The A. & M. College will not be opened for the reception of pupils until September next.

The Presbyterian church at Aberdeen has a $1,400 organ. The congregation paid $1,100 of the amount down.

Last Sunday night the Methodist church at Boonville came very near being consumed by fire, caused by the explosion of a kerosine lamp.

Ben Butler will shortly sail for China in his yacht America. Spoon-bill cats will doubtless be greatly alarmed when Ben sets sail.

A Prussian government commission has decided that the old term of ink, made from gall nuts and a salt of iron, is the best for official purposes. Aniline inks are especially undesirable from the ease with which they may be washed away.

The stern-wheel iron steamer Charles P. Choteau recently landed at New Orleans the largest cargo of cotton ever carried by one vessel on the Mississippi, and probably in the world. It consisted of 8,041 bales, the huge mass, piled tier above tier, almost hiding the steamer from view.

The Parisians are a novel people. The latest and most extravagant novelty yet introduced by them is the bracelet clapier. The shoe is cut very low in front, high up on the instep. It is fastened with a finely chiselled real gold bracelet instead of the usual strap.

According to Commander Cameron, of the British navy, a system of telegraphy by sound has long been in use in Africa. He has found tribes that by sustaining drums rest at intervals, carry intelligence for miles with great rapidity, the beats of the drum being made in accordance with prearranged signals.

It used to be said that white men could never take the place of the blacks in our Southern cotton fields. Experience has shown the assertion to have no foundation in fact. Inquiries made during the past season by several Southern members of Congress develop the fact that a large portion of the last crop was raised by their own labor. Mr. Manning, says that the facts he has collected justify the opinion that three-fifths of the crop of 1879 was [illegible] by free white labor.

Records exist of the great approach to the earth of several comets, but the last distances of only two have been determined with any degree of accuracy. On July 1, 1770, a comet was within 1,300,000 miles of the earth—the closest approach of any of those bodies of which astronomers have any certain knowledge. Its apparent diameter was two and one-half degrees, or nearly five times the width of the moon's disc. It is not surprising that the apparition of such a monster should cause a panic of terror among unenlightened and superstitious inhabitants of the earth.

From a study of the action of tea, Mr. W. J. Morton has arrived at these conclusions: As with any other drug, there is a proper and an improper use of it. In moderation it is a mild and pleasant stimulant, followed by no harmful reaction. Its continued and immoderate use leads to a very serious group of symptoms, such as headache, vertigo, ringing in the ears, tremulousness, nervousness, exhaustion of mind and body, with diminution of mental and physical exertion, increased and irregular action of the heart, and dyspepsia. Many of the symptoms of immoderate tea-drinking are such as may occur without a suspicion of the real cause.

Wade Hampton has consented to deliver an address before the Society of the Grand Army of the Republic at Pittsburg, at his convenience. The Society does itself credit in extending the invitation, and the distinguished Confederate soldier equally honors himself in accepting it. There were good men, and brave, patriotic and true, on both sides in that war, and those who were soldiers who fought the battles can meet together and recount the noble deeds of either side, magnanimously remembering only the virtuous and worthy deeds done in honorable war, those who wore the blue and those who wore the grey, they do themselves honor and give help to the cause of peace and good will among fellow countrymen.

AN OLD RAILROADER.

Lately, we had a letter from an old friend, who is, also, an old railroad man—Major L. J. Fleming. In a few brief sentences, what a mighty train of interesting thought he awakens!

"This day forty three years ago, I started to railroading," and the years and the return of its anniversary brings with it recollections that it has been the greatest pleasure of a man's entire life-time. There is but one person living of that first party that left Norfolk, April 20, 1836—Dr. John H. Rutherfoord, a physician in Richmond, who was Assistant-Surgeon-General of the Confederate States Army. There was not more than a thousand miles of strap iron railroad at the time I commenced. What vast and varied improvements since! in the mechanical arts and manufactures! the daguerreotype, photograph, telegraph, and other wonders! The scientific discoveries then in the earth and the heavens one can never be so appreciated by those hereafter born."

Truly, we have lived in a wonderful age—those of us who were living to see the "stars fall"—and we should appreciate our glorious privilege.

Hon. A. M. Lay, member of Congress from Mississippi, died at Washington last Monday. He was a consistent and [illegible] makes parties in the House merry every evening [illegible] the [illegible] solid.

Written for the Mercury.]

WHAT A CONTRAST!

Enrror Meacury:—Eighteen years ago the writer of this sketch, [illegible] D. Belt of your city, were among the [illegible] of others, private citizens of Jackson, Hinds county, Illinois.

When I got [illegible] father I wanted [illegible] to go and see [illegible] company, I was [illegible] contracting the bill of fare [illegible] at Rock Island. At that [illegible] often when [illegible] diminutive [illegible] the [illegible] with all she [illegible] dition to [illegible] issued daily, we got a [illegible] every [illegible] and [illegible] compared the [illegible] up its ration business so far as the U. S. Government was concerned. Until [illegible] as the vinegar was found [illegible] made a full stop.

The truth is's, whole days [illegible] only made one small meal, [illegible] it all of one ounce, others, by strict self-denial, made two or three [illegible] but the fact is, we often pieced-out the meager allowance by [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] other, [illegible] into the hold-fast to the [illegible] and [illegible] by [illegible] and [illegible] rats (big rusty fellows as they [illegible] from their holes) and [illegible] and [illegible]. Others added to their rations by [illegible] bites of [illegible] purchased [illegible] loaves of bread and other contraband articles of provision which were surreptitiously smuggled [illegible] the writer fortunately had a little money, and was not compelled to resort to [illegible] dogs and rats, but as good men as ever [illegible] were compelled to resort to [illegible] longing to good fare—well educated gentlemen who would [illegible] to-day [illegible] Mayor Barry and irrepressible [illegible] greedily devoured baked dogs and fried rats at Rock Island [illegible].

Many Rock Island prisoners will see this. Between us [illegible] was a common prison life opposite. At Belt's you will find comfortable rooms and no rats in the middle to knock you down (as at Rock Island) if you get close to the fire. You will find tables in place of [illegible] in lieu of plank or chunk of stone—coal. You will find good, comfortable chairs instead of having to stand up, or sit down on your haunches [illegible] fashion. You will find plates, knives and forks, cups and saucers, &c., of excellent quality, instead of [illegible] of irregular size with pewter [illegible] spoon, fingers, rusty tin cups etc. In place of [illegible] dried beans, fore-quarter, fine cut vinegar, (Belt, tell me at once, time why they gave us so much vinegar,) at Belt's restaurant you will find loaf bread, biscuits &c., as light and as white as the driven snow, superb beef-steak (hind-quarter), ham and eggs, game, fish, oysters &c., served in order and in fact in a manner so else that grows on hand, that lives in the air and that is caught in the water that is the most cultivated and fastidious palate could desire to be found at Belt's—and it is prepared with skill that consciousness from all parts of the United States proclaims unparalleled—the plat olive—but go and judge for yourselves.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Dec. 9th, 1879.

Washington is feeling the effects of the exodus of negroes from the South. Those from North Carolina pass through this city. They are without money or other resources.

There are about one hundred of them here now living upon charity and waiting until they shall be furnished with transportation to Indiana. One cannot help wondering at their undertaking such a journey at this season. Indeed the movement is doubtless a political one, managed in the supposed interest of the general party in Indiana. If in effect there is not exactly contrary to what its promoters anticipate I am much mistaken.

The holiday adjournment will probably be made as early as Sunday the 15th, which will give the members a chance to meet General Grant at Philadelphia on the 16th. This is the wish of Senator Cameron, and his winning ways have often secured an adjournment, whether the question of adjournment was before the House or for the benefit of a horse race. This time, however, no serious damage will be done, for, despite reports to the contrary, the Committee on Appropriations of the House will continue its labors prepared before the holiday recess. It was believed in the Star of last evening that the Pension and one other appropriation bill would be ready this week, but the report of the Committee on Pensions is still in the hands of the printer.

The annual proposal to reduce government expenses seems to be more earnestly discussed than usual among members, and the delay in reporting the bills is the result of that fact. It is still doubtful if a majority of members of either House can be held together in an effort not to serve from twenty to forty millions during the next fiscal year. But the attempt will be made.

Yesterday the Senate Judiciary Committee reported unanimously in favor of confirming the nomination of Secretary McCrary as Judge of a U. S. Court. It is a gratifying fact that noisy opposition to Mr. McCrary did not cause Democrat Senators to take a partisan view of the situation. They voted as one would have voted had there been a Thurman, Bayard, McDonald, Garland, ted Lamar to vote, with regard only to the personal and professional fitness of the nominee. In saying this I do not lose sight of the fact any more than the Senators lose sight that the political course of Secretary McCrary has been such as all patriotic men hope will be felt hereafter to have been unobjectionable. His confirmation by the Senate is certain.

Yesterday the New York Tribune gave up two columns or so to a discussion of Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, in words as "fraud," "theft," &c., were sprinkled through the article liberally. The Star of last evening had one more than a thousand miles of strap iron railroad at the time I commenced. What vast and varied improvements since! in the mechanical arts and manufactures! the daguerreotype, photograph, telegraph, and other wonders! The scientific discoveries then in the earth and the heavens one can never be so appreciated by those hereafter born."

HILTON.

Although shoes are advancing very rapidly, Messrs. Marks & Lichtenstein still are selling at the old prices. They have bought an unusually large stock of boots and shoes before the rise of the times, and will give their customers the benefit of it. They have a large stock of the celebrated Balter shoe in every style, for ladies, gents and children. We can recommend this make of shoe to our friends, as we know them to be the best shoe made. Every pair of them are guaranteed, and if they do not prove satisfactory, Messrs. Marks & Lichtenstein will either refund you your money or give you another pair. Try them.

We take the following account of the marriage of Mr. E. H. Dial, of this city, to Miss Annie Thompson, of Oxford, in Memphis, recently, from the Memphis Appeal:

DIAL—THOMPSON—In Memphis, Tenn., Tuesday evening, December 9, 1879, at the residence of the bride's uncle, Hon. Jacob Thompson, by the Rev. Dr. Quarles White, rector of Calvary church, Memphis, Mr. Edward H. Dial, of Meridian, Mississippi, and Miss Annie Thompson, of Oxford, Miss.

Men are to come to magnify, cherish, and dwell upon the sorrows of life, while its joys arouse comparatively little attention. Let it be also true that the overflowing happiness of the heart often finds vent in tears, and that the scenes which it will ever retain, and it is both to give some expression to such feelings as were manifested at the bridal reception of Mr. Dial and accompanied the departure, that this article is written. On Tuesday night last the well-lighted and hospitable home of Hon. Jacob Thompson was beautifully decorated with nature's choicest flowers and evergreens. Among other decorations, a large wreath woven into the shape of a horse shoe, was suspended from the ceiling by satin ribbons, and on the centre-table a floral collection in form [illegible] and a bridal veil basket of flowers presented to the bride by Mrs. Fiasco, and bearing the monogram "F. C.," attracted the especial admiration and elicited the admiration of all the guests. Among the bridal presents were a handsome cashmere shawl from the groom, and a valuable set of silver spoons from the brides maids. Rev. Dr. Quarles performed the elegant parlor and specious halls were crowded with the beautiful and the talented of Memphis; and the long expected joy of the bride and groom, and the happiness which seemed to be before them, rapidly spread to the heart and face of every guest, while delight was heard in every tone and language of the occasion. The scene became deeply interesting when the bride and groom, surrounded by the bridal party and accomplished Miss Lulie Crawford, and Mr. S. A. Witherspoon, with members of the family, entered the dining room. The venerable Dr. White began to make the indissoluble knot, and, every person present seemed sober with the thought that a solemn act was about to be performed. The last amen was over and the happy hearty congratulations were ended, the happy party was conducted to the [illegible] tables. Mrs. Thompson—who must have bestowed long and special attention upon the delightful preparing good things to eat—had selected all that can delight the eye and tempt the appetite in the way of a table, and the lively popping of the champaign bottles blended well with the merry laugh and earnest conversation of the guests. It is useless to say that art had left nothing undone to enhance the natural beauty of the bride. She was dressed in all the elegance and taste of the most cultured aristocracy; and to those who know her well her appearance was a fit emblem of those graces and traits which adorn the home of her girlhood in Oxford, Mississippi, where for many years she was the reigning belle. She graduated at the State University and the young gentlemen of the town; and there is no small number of them who, unless their opinions have chaged, will say that Mr. Dial has won the prize of cards. Mr. Dial is of Meridian, Mississippi, and is one of the most promising young lawyers of that thriving city and of Mississippi. He was educated at the State University, where he first met the bride, and during the same year of the Centennial class; and as a writer and orator he was the peer of any, while his talent as a poet gave him a high degree of distinction. But a warm and loving heart is the best characteristic of Mr. Dial. His manners are of too transient generally, while the intellect is all the same; and when we see the noble and purest passions of the heart as unchangeable as the reason we behold the surest sign of a strong and beautiful character. Since 1875, when he was Freshman, Mr. Dial has knelt with unceasing devotion before the throne of grace, won, and the highest compliment that can be paid him is to say that he well deserves her.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Dec. 12 1879.

An increase of several millions in the annual Pension bill is accounted for by the fact that many pensioners failed carry with them payment back to the time of the soldiers discharge from service. In previous years payment commenced with the granting of pensions, whereas the average "back payment" to pensioners is about $600.

It is probable that the Northern Pacific Railroad Company will not ask many more favors of Congress. Its land grant is considered of such value that the public aid is not required. The real cause of this change in policy is the richness of the country developed as the road proceeds. The extensive coal deposits on the Continental Divide selected, through which a railroad could be run overland, that is so unfortunately good as that on the line of the Northern Pacific. This fact and the other, that the Company has adopted the policy of selling their lands at a low average rate for cash, and of making several terms for other buyers, causes a rush of emigrants to that region. It is expected that the same rapid settlement on the Utah line will end, where they are likewise rapidly constructing their line eastward to meet the approaching section which invite a large emigration there. Many who have been over the belt of country indicated say that it is the richest land in the world, and that the amount now under cultivation is but a very small part is sufficient to found an Empire.

The proposition to open negotiations for the removal of the Ute from Colorado promises to open up before it finally goes through Congress, the whole subject of our Indian affairs. The opposition to sending these savages to the Indian Territory seems to have appeared on its face. Before long the project for opening that Territory to general settlement, and the driving of land to Indians in severalty will be discussed. In fact, the mention of an Indian in House or Senate provokes more interest than a bill to "domesticalize" the greenbacks. Much of the session will be consumed in discussion of this subject.

The Senate Finance Committee is today holding its first meeting since the session. An influential member of the Committee said last night he believed no financial legislation of importance was possible this session.

Ex-Governor Bullock is the now prominent candidate for the English mission.

Washington people think another form of government—that is, some of them do. Argument they live under a sort of Russian despotism, not tempered, however, as that is by "assassination." In fact they have no rights which any one is bound to respect. The demand is now for an elective government.

KNOX.

ONLY A LITTLE GIRL.

"Did she leave any children?"
"Yes, this bit of a child."
"And who will take her?"
"I don't know."

We are all very poor around here, sir, but we must find her a place somewhere. God help the little girl, for she's all alone now."

The scanty but called at an old tenement-house on Lafayette street to take a body to a pauper's field—the body of one whose life had been worn out in the treadmill of hunger and despair. Nothing knew but that the mother was dead—hardly suspected that she was living until one morning this child appeared at a neighbor's door and asked for bread.

"Would you be afraid to come over to my house, for you is dead and I'm lonesome here

SATURDAY MORNING, DEC. 20, 1879.

The Religious Herald, a bigotic paper in Richmond, Va., is divided in its condemnation of raffles for church purposes. That is the right doctrine.

The matrimonial fever is raging furiously in various sections of the country, especially, over about Eutaw. It is likely Callahan of the Mirror will soon be stricken down with this matrimonial fever.

Congress is stupid and stagnant, but pretty soon it will warm up to its work and set the country on fire. Let us have a business session and no speechifying foolery. The Democracy cannot now afford to make mistakes.

The Irish are again agitating and clamoring for "home rule." The Irish need more industry and economy—more manual labor and less talk. The Scotch are more prosperous simply because they are more industrious and frugal; for, Ireland is far more fertile in soil and genial in climate than Scotland. "Home Rule" in Ireland means confusion worse confounded.

A question was asked: Why is a United States bondholder like an Indian in the Constitution? He missed swells [illegible] gives a hard one.

After some 18,000 examinations, Dr. Jeffries affirms that about one male in twenty-five is color-blind to a greater or less degree. He finds the defect is largely hereditary, although sometimes caused by disease or injury. In the former case it is incurable, but in the latter it may be only a temporary difficulty.

Recent comparative measurements of the crania of eminent men and of criminals show that, while a capacious intellect requires a large skull, a large cranium is not always attended by a high order of intelligence. The crania of a considerable number of criminals were found to have a capacity much above the average.

A general law, applicable to every railroad in the United States, is what is needed, and this law should define the duties and responsibilities of conductors, baggage masters, and station agents, and provide some punishment for breaches of those duties. As it is now, the railroad officials may be as rude as they please to travelers, so long as their employers support them. Let us have a general law on this subject.

A recently discovered fossil animal, Amphilambus fraysillensius, is described as a monster considerably more than one hundred feet in length, with spinal vertebræ six feet across, hind legs forty feet long, and a large and powerful tail. Imagine the monster standing on its hind legs in the water and catching its prey with its fore paws, and a picture is presented from the ages long agone.

The legislature of each State in the Union should memorialize Congress to pass a general law regulating railroad charges on through and way freight, and establishing a just rate of fare per mile, with never a road fails to make connection. Three cents per mile would be ample fare. Let Congress go to work and protect people against railroad monopolies and oppressions. It behooves the press to speak out manfully on this momentous subject and thus give the needful backbone to the politicians.

The landed estate of the late John W. Gulley, one of the victims of the Kemper Tragedy, that has so exercised the country, is advertised to be sold at administrator's sale on the 20th inst. It comprises a large landed estate, and we hope it may sell for enough to make comfortable provision for the widow and orphan children. If they have ever had a hysterical taking-off in Kemper, his assassination was the political one—or had more of the political element in it than any.

Major J. W. Powell, who has given much attention to Indian mythologies, finds the philosophy of rain and snow entertained among certain tribes a peculiar one. According to the Shoshonee, the firmament is made of ice, and when a monster serpent-god coils his back against the ice flakes are rubbed off, which fall as snow in winter and melt to form rain in summer. The Oraibi believes that an upper god makes rain by dipping feathers in the lakes of the sky and sprinkling the earth; but in winter the god crushes the ice of the sky-lakes and flings down snow.

The Clement attachment to the cotton gin is the very best weapon the South can use against rampant Radicalism. Commercial independence is precisely what the South needs. Let each neighborhood club its money and start a cotton gin with the Clement attachment, and Radicalism will pretty soon give up the ghost. Let us convert the cotton into thread at the gin and save all the expenses of packing and compressing. We must sell the cotton at our doors, and not ship it off to be manipulated by factors in the old fashion of way. Cotton that is shipped to Mobile is sure to fall off in weight and so damage the farmer.

Pick, the celebrated Berlin detective, who performed wondrous feats in the way of ferreting out ingenious criminals last year. He commenced his public career as Burgomaster of Feddichow, a small town on the Oder, which office he exchanged for Commissary of Criminal Police, some six and twenty years ago. It was he who broke up the band of malefactors who were the terror of Pomerania in 1850. He joined the band himself, added them to committing several overt acts of treason, and enabled himself to identify them when they were nerved by a force of gendarmerie.

Luxury prices are the rule nowhere in hell—extremely where. This is luminous. Fire usually sells at lower rates than neither N. O. Times.

The newspaper has become the greatest factor in the education of the people—in the diffusion of information on all subjects and is the support of morality, while the pulpit, at best, only performs the principal part of the work. No one likes to be stabbed in a newspaper, even Shylock, who is a money-lender, or other to like heavily at his every vocation; but nothing is more wholesome than a newspaper every day, and differently presented every day. Every newspaper really keeps a man abreast with the march of the world, since it is an epitome of the current news of the world. We do not allude to the telegraphic news, which is of so diseased a character as to be almost worthless. Indeed, we hardly ought to call it news in a newspaper, and hereafter we will not, by the insertion of it, be guilty of the deception of its immense power of so libelous. A single week's issue of a newspaper contains more [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

SATURDAY MORNING, DEC. 20, 1879.

From Friday's paper.]

Concert to-night.

Yesterday was a big cotton day.

The Christmas trade is coming.

The Italian musicians are in town.

Our streets need to be lighted with gas.

The price of cotton advanced a few points yesterday.

About now Meridian is the driest and busyest town in the State.

Go to the concert, at the Opera House to-night.

Don't fail to attend the Grand Concert to-night. Only fifty cents.

We don't hear of any christmas tree at this place Christmas.

Remember the Catholic ladies' "Supper at Sheehans' Hall, on Monday and Tuesday nights.

Remember that Fanny Wallack's Burlesque Pinafore company will occupy the Opera House for three nights next week.

It is hoped we will have pretty weather one time during christmas week.

We are pleased to know that it is the intention of our city marshal to do all in his power to suppress drunkenness and keep the city orderly during the holidays.

We were gratified to learn last evening, that Mr. Hines was improving. He is not yet, however, able to be removed to his home in this city.

Remember the Grand Concert, comes off to-night. This concert is under the direction of Mine. Richard, and promises to be a splendid entertainment.

Wouldn't it be best, for those who are out of coal, to lay in a supply while the weather is fair. 40 or 50 cts. a load per man, thinks so, as it is difficult to fill orders promptly during bad weather. Get your supplies of coal now.

The negro Jeff Eaken, who was shot near Kewanee, by Nathan Golly alias Nathan Smith, the other day, died of his wounds on Wednesday. Golly, who surrendered himself to sheriff Henderson at the time, has been returned to Toumsuba, where he is to have a preliminary trial.

The young men of this city will probably give a ball on the night of December 31st. Provided, however, that the young ladies fail in the leap year dance, which they all favor, but are too timorous to take the initiatory steps. So there is no doubt that those who desire, can dance out the old year and dance in the new.

Mr. Moser, a young artist from Atlanta, was in the city yesterday, making some sketches for illustrations in Harpers Weekly. Front Street, the subject of his sketch, looked its busiest, and, together with the immense stacks of cotton, all along the railroad front furnished a splendid view. It will prove to the outside world that ours is a city of no small business pretensions. Mr. Moser had his large pad, and made his sketch from the roof of the Ragsdale House.

Our old friend, Chancellor Wood, called at our sanctum yesterday. He will leave in attendance on the Conference as a lay delegate from a sea shore church. His church is located at Moss Point, and he reports a good church there, and Sunday Sehool doing well, the health of the town, and healthy condition and prospering.

As Christmas is near at hand, we take occasion to express the hope, that it will not be made the season for drunkenness and rowdyism, as has too frequently been the case. Our municipal authorities should be active and diligent in repressing and punishing drunkenness and rowdyism in the streets and hotels. Matters must be different thing from drunkenness, noise, and rowdyism, and we do not have a word to say against innocent enjoyment and decent hilarity. It is a season upon the Christian religion for a professedly Christian people to get drunk during Christmas.

The boom in cotton has made things quite lively and put an end to the long faces that farmers used to wear, and it rejoices in this improvement in price and in trade. But we cannot tell what caused this boom in cotton, nor predict its duration. Is it genuine, or fictitious is the question. Not a few incline to think it is the result of a huge speculation, and predict a ruinous collapse in prices some bright morning, and perhaps before this. Others insist that cotton will work up slowly to 15 cents and stay there. The price is now remunerating, and, farmers who own but a few bales, should dispose of them as they cannot be profited much by a rise of three cents per pound on half a dozen bales, they should run no risks of a tumble before they sell. Every one who owns or will hold half a dozen bales of cotton when he can sell it at present figures. The risk of a rise is too great, the risk of a fall is more so very considerable. Farmers must not calculate on a rise—headed—and go crazy about cotton, but must keep cool and plant abundance of corn in 1880. Let us have no speculative farming in 1880 because the price of cotton has jumped up most unaccountably.

Communications were read from the Secretary of the Chickasaw Academy, Pontotoc, Sunday School Editor, and from West Texas Conference and referred to proper committees.

Question 20, called—Are all the preachers blameless in their life and official administration. A number of cases were called one by one, and their characters examined and passed.

Pending this question for the day, adjourned.

SECOND DAY, Meridian, Dec. 18th, 1879.

Conference met at usual hour, Bishop Kavanaugh in the chair. Religious services conducted by Rev. J. Nicholson, Dr. Andrews read report of the Trustees of Centenary College, which was referred to Committee on Education. Similar communications were received from Whitworth Female College and East Mississippi Female College, which were likewise referred to Committee on Education. It was decided that Rev. H. P. Bowen who attended Conference was transferred to West Texas Conference, and afterwards reinstalled in the Mississippi College, was at the time of his death a member of the Mississippi Conference and therefore his widow and children were claimants upon the Conference Fund. Rev. A. J. Ivey, agent of South Western Publishing Society and Rev. J. L. Cooper, member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, were introduced. Also Mr. Lathrop publisher of the New Orleans Christian Advocate. The characters of a number of the members of the Conference were passed.

Dr. Bardwell presented for the use of Bishop a gavel made from the wood from a china tree, planted at old Goshen, Ga., by the missionaries to the Choctaw Indians more than half a century ago. At 10 o'clock to-morrow was made the order of the day for the purpose of hearing the petition of the Alumni Association of Whitworth Female College. They propose that the Conference transfer to them all of its claims on Whitworth College, and that it be made a State Normal school.

THIRD DAY.

Meridian, Dec. 19th, 1879.

In the Conference session to-day the most important items of business were the following: A resolution offered by Col. W. L. Nugent from the Committee on Education, asking the Bishop to appoint a Rev. A. Ellis, agent of East Mississippi Female College was adopted. The representations of the Alumni Association of Whitworth Female College, Mrs. Judge Peyton of Hazlehurst, and Miss Julia Bedford of Liberty were introduced. Miss Bedford then read an address to the Conference in support of which was that the Church consent to the transfer of the College property to the Methodist Church. We understand the State will adopt and support the Institution. The reading of the address was followed by applause. The matter was referred to the Committee on Education. The Bishop impressively addressed the persons to be ordained deacons in the Church.

Last night Dr. Andrews preached an eloquent sermon.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Special to the N. O. Times.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.

It has been discovered that the senator from Louisiana who takes his seat in 1880 must be elected at this session of the legislature.

Mr. Farmer, of Ouachita, has telegraphed to the Louisiana delegation to get their opinion on the subject. After consulting with all leading Democrats on the Republican election committees of the senate, they have replied that the opinion was unanimous that the senator must be elected in January, the balloting to begin January 13, otherwise the law would not be complied with.

Senator Beck said to-night that this question was settled in the New Orleans shire case. When asked if some relief could not be had from congress, he said the Republicans would oppose such a bill; that the Louisiana legislature met in time to comply with the law.

These views are concurred in by Bayard and Thurman.

This condition of things creates much excitement among the Louisiana delegation, and members generally from the South. The Republican national convention will be held June 3, at Chicago. Don Cameron is chairman of the national committee.

The Grant men are joyful, and think they have made their points; on the other hand, the Sherman men say their man is certain to win now.

DEATH OF ANDREW B. WOOD. COCK.

Mobile Register.]

The announcement of the death of Mr. Andrew B. Woodcock will carry sorrow to the hearts of his many friends in this community. For Andrew Woodcock had those generous qualities and that true manliness which ever endears a man to his associates. Mr. Woodcock has been in failing health for some time past, and his friends have noticed the fact with alarm and anxiety, but although a fatal result to his illness was anticipated, the suddenness of his death was totally unexpected by many. Andrew Woodcock was a true friend, an honest man and a good soldier in the times that tried men's souls. He went out with the Mobile Cadets, 3d Alabma Regiment, as a private, but rose afterwards to be a Lieutenant in his company. In the desperate battle of Malvern Hill, he was severely wounded while gallantly leading his men. Since the war he has ever been ready to do his part in all things pertaining to the interest and advancement of Mobile. His funeral will take place this afternoon at the Cathedral St. John's Episcopal Church. We understand that the Mobile Cadets will attend the funeral and pay the last tribute of respect to their departed comrade.—Mobile Register, 18

DIED IN JAIL.

The Memphis papers relate the arrest in that city of W. C. Crum, who for. merly lived in Mississippi, and was charged with a murder in Benton county, and one or two more. He was arrested by the police as a suspicious character, and held for communication with the authorities of Benton, on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, which on his arrest was found on his person. But on the night of his arrest he was found dead in his cell, a prisoner confined with him saying that he died in some sort of convulsions, and Dr. Frayser, who made a post mortem examination, concluded from it that he died from some congestion of the brain or lungs. Letters found on his person showed that he was a man of education, a farmer, and a man who was very affectionate to his family. He was about forty years old, and used to be a farmer. Some of our citizens who knew him say that he has been guilty of more than one murder.—Holly Springs Reporter.

A SHOWER OF METEORS.

There was a shower of meteors at Clarksville, Tennessee Thursday night, causing much consternation. One fell through the roof and floors of the new opera house and buried itself two feet under the ground. An audience had assembled, but fortunately, no one was injured. A number of persons were found around the city, and another large one at or near Hopkinsville, Kentucky.

Capt. Thos. H. Woods, of Meridian, Miss., P. G. Sanderson, of Columbus, Ala., and Mr. Ed. Watson, of Holly Springs, have been retained to defend Mr. Thomas Moore of Monroe county, charged with the killing of Stephen Tompkins.—[Kemper Herald.

While at the Madisonville conference, a memoir on the death of a brother preacher was being read, and the committee seated to issue a roster took a stand beneath one of the church windows. The child it was in the county and enjoying the best of health. He has since died. Hereafter it will be impossible to positively and permanently cured. Dr. Bonner now gives this guarantee, with full confidence, knowing that every one can be his own physician and prepare his own medicine, only asking that stamps be given stamps to pay expenses. The Herb Drops will relieve night sweats, sour stomach, and will break a fresh cold up in twenty-four hours.

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.
Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.
PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increased on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternate with laxity; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains often of tenderness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a lack of perspiration; the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.
AGUE AND FEVER.
DR. C. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IS CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER. when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who live in localities where this disease is prevalent to procure a supply.

THE EDITOR IN THE HANDS OF THE SURGEONS.

The readers of the Mercury will be liberal enough to know how to make proper allowances for short-comings during the illness of the principal editor.

He left us on the early train of last week quite feeble, but pushed with energy, and at last had to take his bed and call in a physician. Dr. Griffin came to him and found the first was typhoid fever, and at last had to take his bed and call in a physician. Dr. Griffin came to him and found the first was typhoid to the opinion that a surgical operation [illegible] necessary. We naturally desired to avoid this, and there was a delay of two or three days. At last late Sunday afternoon Dr. Griffin brought with him Dr. Izzard, as operator, and a consultation was held. It was then decided to be necessary, and was done by Dr. Griffin assisted by Dr. Izzard. Chloroform was used on account of the extreme sensitiveness of the parts, caused by inflammation. The operation was successfully accomplished and in very brief time. We imagine that a circumstance to militate against the earliest recovery is the inflamed condition of the brown cut.

In the meantime we are bearing our ills with such patience as we can command, and the friends of the Mercury will bear with us while we make the intimation that we can bear these and all our ills more patiently, if they will come up promptly and pay us what they owe us.

RETURN OF THE FAVORITE.

Katie Putnam appears again at the Opera House to-night and to-morrow night, on which occasions our citizens will have the pleasure of seeing this charming little actress and supreme favorite, in entirely different roles and different plays, from what were presented during her last engagement here. She has just concluded a successful engagement at Vicksburg, and in passing through our city on her way to Atlanta, she has been prevailed upon to stop over with us again for two nights. To night is to be presented a brilliant and attractive bill "Child of the Regiment" and "Little Rebel." There will be a matinee to-day, at the Opera House to night. The Vicksburg Herald says of them:

Never has the play of Fanchon been presented in our city to so overflowing a house as on last evening. In our opinion it is the best play that has been produced here for a week. Miss Putnam has received the highest encomiums from both the press and the public for her portrayal of the character Fanchon. Whether she wrote to that effect certainly the finest we have ever seen in the part and worthy of all the praise she has received. The song, "Oh, Dear Old Rose You," with charming effect. The impersonations of her roles are perfect—splendidly, and her association almost perfect.

Mr. Edwin Clifford, as Landry Barbeau, gave us a correct conception of the character. He has a clear, strong voice, is graceful and a natural and gentlemanly person. We should like to see him in a character more worthy of him. Mr. Arnold's Father Barbeau was first-class; as was also Mr. Oglesby's Didier. Messrs. Ferris and Gould did all that was required of them in a capital manner. Miss Putnam's "Old Fisher," Mrs. Gardner's "Mother Barbeau" and Mrs. Kaufman's "Madeline," were all satisfactory.

To-morrow night the company will present for the first time in this city, in several years, "Fanchon." Secure reserved seats, without extra charge, at Marks & Leichtenstein's.

From Wednesday's paper.]

"Fanchon" to-night.

Fanchon" to-night.

Miss Maggie Mitchell will appear in the play at the Methodist church to-night.

Maggie Mitchell is again on the boards. She is to be in Mobile soon.

Katie Putnam appears to night for the last time in the city this season, as "Fanchon, the Cricket."

Best reserved seats for "Fanchon" to-night, without extra charge at Marks & Leichtenstein's.

There is to be an excursion over the Alabama Central road from Lauderdale to Meridian on Wed. The price for the round trip will be $2.50.

A change of schedule on the Alabama Central Railroad goes into effect this morning. Leave Meridian at 6:30 a. m. Arrive at Selma 1:40 p. m. Leave Selma at 11:30 a. m. and arrive at Meridian 7.55 p. m.

Capt. Bob informs us that the tax-payers are coming up to the office and settling at a lively rate. The final day fixed is one, we never mind, keep coming, file up to his office and settle up, and Capt. Bob will make it all right. Do fair by him and he'll do fair by you. He wants your taxes and not the damages.

The colored gentleman who shot another member of the Hain family yesterday morning and then walked twenty miles to surrender himself, and only had for excuse for killing the other negro a jolly good hankdid, that he would rather be hung than take such abuse, is hankering the gallows.

GAVE HIMSELF UP.

Yesterday evening Nathan Gully came to town from Kewanee, in this county, and seeking out deputy sheriff Boothroyd, gave himself into the hands of the law. He stated that he had shot another negro named Jeff Haygen, for that place, perhaps fatally. He reports that Haygen cursed him, and enraged him so that he took a shot gun and shot him in the abdomen. After the shooting he left immediately for this city. He has been lodged in jail. No information has yet been received relative to the condition of the wounded negro.

THE CONFERENCE.

The preachers of the Methodist Conference are assembling in our city, and will begin their labors to-day. We may expect to have assembled in our midst for a few days a fine body of fine men on a very interesting occasion. Bishop Cavanagh, a distinguished divine, is here to preside. The Society is large and influential in this city and, of course, will keep open house to the members; but, beyond this, our citizens of all religious denominations are generous and open hearted, and are helping to extend all needed hospitalities to the preachers.

Frolicking and romping little Katie Putnam, sang, danced and skipped on our Opera House boards last night before a very full and delighted audience. The bill presented, "Child of the Regiment," and "The boy who never saw a woman"—was a good one, and we never saw a more enthusiastic audience, in their demonstrations of approval and delight, in our Opera House than this season. She completely captivated all present. To-night, on which occasion Mr. Edwin Clifford will appear for the first time in this city, will be presented "Fanchon, the Cricket."

EXPLOSION OF NITRO-GLYCERINE.

Amherstburg, Ont. Dec. 13.

A magazine of nitro-glycerine and dynamite powder on Fox Island, opposite this place, exploded last night with a terrific report, shaking the ground like an earthquake and breaking nearly every window in this town, and filling the people generally.

The explosion was felt forty miles away, in Detroit and Windsor, and even shaking every house in both towns and startling the inhabitants. It was also felt for forty miles along the Canada Southern railroad line.

The cause of the explosion is not known, but it is supposed to have been caused by hunters leaving fire on the island while cooking their dinner. At the time of the explosion an immense blaze lighted up the whole heavens, and was followed by a tremendous report. There were about three tons of nitro-glycerine and dynamite powder in the magazine at the time.

At the time of the explosion to-day, nothing whatever can be found of the magazine, where it stood in a hole sixty feet in diameter and fifteen feet deep, made by the explosion. A goodly number of unexploded cases of powder cartridges are lying around. The shock was felt so severely at Fletcher, on the Canada Southern railroad, forty-five miles from here, that the people ran out of the houses in alarm. The explosion is supposed that it was the work of an incendiary.
